AN AMERICAN INDIAN COMPANY

HISTORY OF OUR COMPANY

Founded in 1979 by Bud Baker, inducted into the Chickasaw Nation Hall of Fame, Chickasaw Distributors is owned by the Baker family who are members of the Chickasaw Indian Tribe. While proud of its Native American heritage, Minority Business Enterprise (MBE) certification and Small/Veteran-owned status, the Chickasaw team humbly recognizes that trust is earned by exceeding customer expectations with quality goods and dependable services which add value to the bottom line, so that "Chickasaw" is synonymous with "service" in the oil and gas industry.

Over the years, Chickasaw has streamlined and improved its effectiveness, while expanding its products and services, supplying tubular products to upstream and midstream/downstream companies, both onshore and offshore. Our innovative, proprietary Total Tubular Management process provides complete, true "end-to-end" supply chain services for all project requirements, including trucking to the customer's final destination.

In our 5th decade of doing business, Chickasaw is well-positioned to help customers enjoy a prosperous future.
